Associate Professor Amanda Jane McBride was one of the founding academics of the School of Medicine in Sydney from its inception in 2005. Amanda's commitment to students and passion for clinical medicine helped shape the medical program with a strong focus on developing clinically excellent, caring and ethical doctors.

As a tribute to her life and work the 'Amanda McBride Memorial Fund' has been established at The University of Notre Dame Australia to support students from the School of Medicine, Sydney, in the fields of general practice, primary health care, preventive medicine and primary care policy.
